July 2010

An emotional outburst could do permanent damage to a relationship, while measured discussions will instantly take the heat out of a pressure situation.

You can add excitement or interest to ordinary tasks and events by adding your own artistic touches.

You will be more concerned with the deeper issues of life and conserving energy for worthwhile causes.

August 2010

Co-workers tend to be a bit confusing, but you will feel you are on the right track and that you are making career progress.

A friendship could well turn into romance, or you could suddenly realize that your lover is also your friend.

At home, others may insist on having the last word and everyone will be unwilling to compromise.

September 2010

Work to change your life for the better, give up that nasty habit that's held you prisoner for too long.

In helping others, you will find some answers. If you can get beyond the illusion and into the truth of the matter, you will take a spiritual step forward.

Put yourself in a comfortable and beautiful environment, relax and enjoy the company of others.
