Jupiter 2009

I will be highlighting to you the benefits and opportunities in store for you for the year 2009. By practise, I am an optimist and this has proven to be to my advantage for I have succeeded well in my business of catering advice to important people, high rollers and companies shaping their development. Now, I will be giving to you an outlook of how the bringer of good fortune, Jupiter, will play in your favour. I will do this for each individual zodiac sign.

Aries will find Jupiter in their 11th house. Much benefit can be derived from group activities. There will be great opportunities to take chances and find interest for inspirational matters should you follow your instincts. It will be a great year for the unexpected, so if you feel something good happening in the depths of your bones, then believe it! It will be likely to prove itself and show you dividend. You will find luck in joining clubs, social interactions and building new relationships. Your creative interests will be boosted from people you contact and those having the expertise to make it happen. This luck will play a very crucial part for your success in 2009.

If you are a Taurus feeling the urge to reinvent your business or career interest, that's because of Jupiter's influence in your 10th House. Even though many people will feel the pinch from being tossed off from their jobs, you will be given the responsibility to bring about new plans and policies that will benefit a work situation or business interest. Your future projects can be made as you have the ability to look into the future and to work some destiny plans. You might even find yourself promoted, job offers coming your way and perhaps the go ahead for starting your own business. Your career, ambition and future will be in line for new development and better prospects.

Great opportunity might come from distant lands for Gemini. If you intend to travel or even make the journey overseas, Jupiter is there to back your decision. It is also a great time for higher learning for there will be results. Any religious, philosophical ideas might lead to an upgrade and betterment of self. You know what you want and people with the necessary knowledge and know-how will be there to help you along the way. This is the year for elevating your higher interest.

Cancer will invest their interests in security as Jupiter secures itself in the 8th House. There will be much reshuffling of interests and finding new routes for expanding income. There is luck in joint ventures, teaming with loved ones and also cooperation with others. Any tax and insurance matters will be dealt with smoothly, so Cancer will find joy in areas of private funds and dealings.

Jupiter is showering some luck for Leos in the partnership area in 2009. Any joint ventures could show positive results during this year. You can afford to be selective with the amount of partnership offers that will be brought your way. You might find that your partners and loved ones are conducive to your success. This is a great time to consider unions and even marriage, anything that results in togetherness. It is a wonderful period to deal with adversaries and opposition. You will win over people who once doubted your methods and coordinate interests together to achieve the common goal. Those married might hear about a new addition to the family, and others might hear of new opportunities appearing in your life which makes you happy.

Virgos might find themselves in a difficult and lean period. My advice is to trim the fat in your life as a necessity. Learn to live and let live. In work, you might have to give way to others and let them throw their two cents in. Sure, it might be two cents that irate you, but if you choose to be stoic about denying them their chance, you might be placed in a very unpopular position that does you no favours, and even find yourself being casted out of a job. Be less hard headed, and follow this rule of thumb: do what works, not what works for you. It might be a period of irritation and depression, but ride through this storm by being low key and you will emerge a winner. It is more a cycle for correction.

Libra will find Jupiter fine-tuning the affairs of the heart in the 5th House. There will be many people liking and loving you, so open up to them. Be more sociable and build rapport with those around you. There will be happy news regarding children and their progress and success – and you might even be instrumental in these matters. Anything concerning children will be good. Your brain could be your greatest form of positive success in 2009. For some, there will be new members adding to the family.

Home affairs, family relationships and property matters will concern the Scorpio mind. Work with the fortunate forces to handle relatives and such matters. You could find yourself profiting from property gains and family interest. You might even consider purchasing and renovating a home. This will be a good time to build up some important family structure, so welcome visitors to the home. They might be the key for you to unlock good fortune! Operating a home-office environment will be lucky.

The communicative realm will be expressed well with Jupiter coaxing the Sagittarius' 3rd House with luck. Open dialogue, meetings in neighbouring towns and countries and communications will bring a stream of successful interests your way. If you feel conversations will be to your advantage, be assertive in saying what you want and you will be glad to have taken such a step in increasing your own luck and potential. Short trips up-states or country and with people from these areas will play important role to your success and contacts.

The luckiest group in the Zodiac must be Capricorn, for Jupiter is shining much luck in the area of position and possessions. Planning well will see financial luck on your side. If you want loans, credit, new funding, there will be many willing to offer you these. This is a good time to capitalize and reinvent your financial policies for the future. Stay optimistic and prudent and show others that you are capable of what you preach, and the stars will work optimistically to your benefit. Don't be surprised if you are offered the highest position and plenty of business opportunities to take over and join forces with others in bringing greater income.

For the sign of Aquarius, you will find yourself being at the luckiest point of your life as Jupiter starts his new cycle on the Zodiac. There will be new possibilities and reinvention of self with novel interests that could enhance your personality, abilities and skills. If you intend to marry into your happiness, you will find yourself in the best position with your ability to attract the right kind of people in your life to search the right partner. Even starting a business will be encouraged at this time. Whatever you intend to do, Jupiter will bring about the luck to see things through. Just remember, you need your own belief, drive and determination to make things happen for you. Be realistic to achieve the greatness that is endowed to you, and trust your instincts. Deny pessimists the chance to put you down, and believe that you are the master of your own fate. Now you know that the new wave of opportunity and luck is on your side, make it happen.

Feeling rather out of your comfort zone, Jupiter is running close to the end of its auspicious cycle for most Piscean. Those whom provided you with backing and support will be withholding their strength to battle their own problems, and you will be left fending for yourself. This is a period of parting; whatever will be, will be and whatever is not meant to be, will disappear. You might hear of sickly relatives and unfortunate circumstances revolving around you. Whatever situation you might feel sucked into this is not a time to be testing risky schemes. It is mostly a period of settlement and by large, not a period of fortunate gains. During this period, you might find yourself low spirited and feel disheartened by others, but you should deny yourself such line of thoughts. Remember, your problems are yours to handle, and others have their own affairs to tend to. Refuse to wallow in self-pity and instead, work on a better management plan for your life by sorting out the good and bad. Whatever brings about losses should be cancelled, and stick to what works best. By doing this, you would have cleaned house for your life and interest for the better.

Jupiter is the planet of good fortune, indeed. However, let it be known that it will only work if you stay positive and take the steps necessary to embrace such luck, Pragmatic and determined policy makers of the best kinds will be the ones whom will benefit from this planetary placing in 2009, and find themselves in a position to establish their fortunes. I hope for the best for all zodiac signs, and wish this year brings good fortune to all.

Just remember, anything is possible if you believe in yourself.
