July 2010

 A rather exciting discovery that you may find in a book or TV documentary might cause you and your lover to consider taking a class or a trip together.

 Professionally, your projects seem to have come to a standstill. Do not let this get you down too much; continue to do your best!

 You will be in a flurry of activity at home or with family.

August 2010

 Love matters seem rosy as planetary alignment increases your level of enthusiasm and optimism.

 Handle all your relationships with care. It will be all too easy to fight over petty differences.

 Your way with words is peaking now, so use that great linguistic energy to pour out your feelings, write the perfect cover letter or just wow your friends.

September 2010

 Knowledge is power, so learn what you can about a person or subject before making commitments.

 Despite objections from friends or family members about a recent decision or choice you made, you will feel justified.

 Whether your working methods are tired, you're using out of date materials, or you're persisting with ineffectual partnerships, it's up to you to work out what needs to be.
