Feng Shui

Just mention the word Feng Shui and you will get a good number of people who have heard about it, know about it and dealt with it and who could relate and give you reference to such matters.

Many people in the Asian regions and people from different walks of life are into Feng Shui these days. It is very important for them as Feng Shui strengthens the chi energy, bringing on harmonious relationship, happiness and good fortune to the homes, in their businesses and it can bring enhancement to the wealth, prosperity and wellbeing.

There are different reference points as to the practices of Feng Shui as well as varying method in its approach. From the early beginning, the Chinese practice Feng Shui with all its goodness and intensity. It is a kind of a ritual that is a must to have in their culture. Today, the Feng Shui development has gone from east to west and spreading in different directions of the globe. It is not uncommon to hear that people do Feng Shui in Germany, England, France, and America and in most capital of the world and some far flunk places. Others have tried out this Asian culture and have found it to be very beneficial and enhancing to their various interests.

Feng shui in itself is a master art and if you really sit down to think and analyze, it is based on logic in working with the harmonies. It got to make sense and it got to have reasoning. If you can do that then knowing some techniques and practicing in this art of Feng Shui would bring a smooth flow of happiness, good luck, health, wealth and the win situation for yourself and the recipient of your advice or knowledge.

We practice a dual art of Feng shui that is Astrological feng shui. Using this Astrological Feng Shui method we have to make a study of your birth chart, the planetary placing, the weak and good points, your directions and your elements. Feng shui is an added on art to synchronize with your own personal birth chart and the feng shui environment that you have to live, work in and even entertain relationships. So this is a kind of a double enhancement to harmonious areas that are most effective toward your own being and living. Many people who practice Feng shui do it to bring the best of happiness, prosperity and tranquility to the environments. Using Astrological Feng Shui brings the full force and greater enhancement to your personal well being and also to your environment and surroundings.

We practice Astrological Feng shui in collaboration with your good self. This service cost $300 and we require you to send to us a photo of the floor plan of your home or work area, take photos of the inside and outside of the different rooms or areas in your home or office surroundings so that we can make research of how to eradicate the weak and difficult energy problems and to put it right and increase the strength the chi power to bring betterment, success and harmony to the surroundings. You will get a brief report with photos view of indicators as to what is and what is not working for you or you can contact my office for an appointment on such matters.

I recalled an incident with a previous client who used to get head pains and was always pressurized by problems. Upon visiting the home of the client and after some investigation, I found that there were a few areas that needed changes and that they had the wrong lighting shades with spiky edges which spelt bad Feng shui and it drain off the chi energy around them and this brought counter productive energy to the luck, prosperity, peace and tranquility. The worst part was a sticking out beam just directly above head level of their sitting position – no wonder they suffered splitting headaches.

There is a good point in question and that is a building with pointed edge, meaning the wall coming together acting like an arrow point. Some Feng shui master would call it unlucky while other thinks it is fantastically good luck to have this sort of a building. Now lucky or unlucky will depend on whose the unlucky one and who is benefiting this luck. The fact remains that “if you are in the building, you are lucky because you are not affected by any pointing arrows or any sharp edge pointing directly at you. But if you are in the building outside and facing these sharp pointed edges, then you could be a victim of these darting points heading towards you and something must be done.

Many new home owners would seek my advice of how to bring better improvement, and the good flow of the chi for luck and prosperity to their homes. When I visited these homes, I could sense why the previous owners suffered such great losses and what they could have done to avoid such misfortunes. Often many of my clients think that someone sends a bad force to their place but to be logical it could be some thing inherited due to pervious owners or they did not have the bad energy reflected out by doing their Feng Shui thus, inviting it into their domain.

Feng shui is a belief in doing everything possible to bring about better peaceful serenity or better condition to one’s well being and surroundings. People appreciate this service because they know and believe in it or because they are in such dire straight that they need something to be done in order to turn things around. If you should require our service, please do not hesitate to call me, send me an email or contact my office. I thank you for reading this article and take this opportunity to wish one and all “A Very Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year.
